United Way
London & Middlesex

- Gives a child from a low-income family a full year of after-school programming designed to help young people succeed in school, form positive relationships, and mature into healthy, responsible adults
- Provides three families with a garden plot and training, enabling them to yield approximately $1,500 worth of healthy food
- Builds a solid foundation for employment for four young people in Middlesex County through mentorship, job search resources, life skills and employment training
